DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I Figures 1-14 in the reply filed on February 28, 2006 is acknowledged. Claims 5-8, 21-24, 33, and 36 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-4, 9-20, 25-32, 34, and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1 and 15, the limitation first cable support surface and second cable pressing surface makes it unclear whether or not there is a second cable support surface and first cable pressing surface.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-4, 9-14, 34 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Swager (US 4,59,871).

Swager discloses a device comprising: a support member (10, 12) with a first cable engagement surface (38); and a cable fixing member (20) non-threadedly supported on said support member to rotate about a rotation axis, said cable fixing member having a second cable engagement surface (50), said cable fixing member and said support member being arranged and configured such that an inner wire (48) is secured between said first and second cable engagement surfaces in response to rotational movement of said cable fixing member to a cable fixing position from a cable release position (see Figs 4 and 5).

Re claims 2 and 34, said cable fixing member (20) includes a cam portion (40) rotatably supported by said support member and an elongated lever portion (21) extending radially outwardly from said cam portion relative to said rotation axis (see Fig 2), said cam portion having said second cable engagement surface (50).

Re claim 3, said support member includes a base portion adapted to be coupled to the bicycle component (coupled through the wire) and a pair of axially spaced mounting portions (54) extending from said base portion with said cam portion of said cable fixing member rotatably supported between said mounting portions (see Fig 2).

Re claims 4 and 35, said cam portion includes a pair of axial end surfaces (see Fig 5) and a peripheral cam surface concentrically arranged relative to said rotation axis and extending between said axial end surfaces (see Figs 5 and 6), and said base portion includes a peripheral retaining surface disposed relative to said peripheral cam surface to retain said cable fixing member relative to said support member when in said cable fixing position and the inner wire is retained between said support member and said cable fixing member See Fig 4).

Re claim 9, at least one of said mounting portions includes an axial retaining surface forming said first cable engagement surface and disposed opposite to one of said axial end surfaces, which forms said second cable engagement surface, said axial retaining surface being spaced from said axial end surface by a distance to squeeze the inner wire therebetween (see Figs 4 and 5).

Re claim 10, said peripheral cam surface is configured and arranged to contact said peripheral retaining surface when said cable fixing member is located in said cable fixing position to frictionally prevent movement of said cable fixing member about said rotation axis (see Fig 5).

Re claim 12, said cam portion is freely rotatably mounted on a pivot pin (22) that extends between said mounting portions of said support member.

Re claim 13, each of said mounting portions of said support member includes an axial retaining surface disposed opposite to one of said axial end surfaces of said cam portion, said axial retaining surfaces forming said first cable engagement surface and said axial end surfaces forming said second cable engagement surface (see Fig 4).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 11 and 14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
